THE TRI-WEEKLY YEOMAN.

Position of Hon. L. W. Andrews.

Mr. Andrews, the late Senator from Fleming, Nicholas, and Rowan, but now the Union candidate in Fleming for the House of Representatives, addressed the public on the 15th in a speech at Greenupburg, where he has long been a popular practitioner of the law.

A correspondent writes us as follows:

"At the request of the Union men of Greenup, L. W. Andrews made a speech there on Monday. I wish you had been there to see how it was received. The Democracy were delighted, while the Lincolns were made mad as March hares. He denounced Lincoln as weak in intellect, incompetent for his place, a usurper and tyrant—said the war was unnecessary and ought to be stopped—counseled forbearance and unanimity among our people—and exhorted all to stand by and maintain perfect neutrality in Kentucky. All this the Irreconcileables disliked, because they were not their sentiments, and they had not expected them from the lips of a Union man.
The speech of Andrews has done good in Greenup."

Mr. Breckinridge asked for the yeas and nays. Agreed to.

Mr. Trumbull said he was glad the ayes and nays were called for. He wanted to see who would vote to allow traitorous masters to employ slaves to shoot down Union men.

Mr. Wilson said he should vote for it gladly.
He thought the time had come when the Government should put a stop to traitors employed bondmen shooting down men fighting for their country. He hoped there was a public sentiment which would blast any Senator who defied such things.

Mr. Breckinridge responded.

The amendment was agreed to—yeas 32, nays 6.

NAYS—Messrs. Breckinridge, Johnson, of Missouri, Kennedy, Pearce, Polk, and Powell.

The bill passed.

The joint resolution approving of the acts of the President was postponed till Wednesday.

After an executive session the bill to increase the military establishment, which was returned from the House with amendments, was taken up.

The Senate refused to concur in the amendments of the House.

A message was read from the President.

After executive session the Senate adjourned.

House—Mr. Crittenden introduced a resolution as previously reported. The first resolution was adopted—yeas 122, nays 2.

NAYS—Burnett and Reed, of Mo.

The other resolutions were adopted by 117 against 2.

A resolution was passed thanking the Massachusetts 6th regiment for the alacrity with which they responded to the call of the President.

Also to 520 Pennsylvanians who passed through the Baltimore mob, April 19th, in their way to defend the National Capital.

Mr. Wright offered a resolution declaring that the reverses at Bull Run had in no way impaired our ultimate success, &c. Laid on the table.

Mr. Huston, from the Committee on Ways and Means, reported a bill authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to pay to the Governors of my State, or his duly authorized agent, the costs, charges, and expenses properly incurred by the State for filling and equipping, transporting, &c., all troops aiding in the suppression of the present insurrection against the United States. Passed.

Mr. Elliott, from the Committee on Commerce, reported a bill providing for a code of marine signals. Referred to a committee on secret service on military stations.

The Kentuckians in Tennessee.

A correspondent of the Louisville Courier furnishes the following account of Camp Boone:

"The camp is located eight or nine miles from Clarksville, a short distance from the turnpike leading from Clarksville to Russellville, and about a mile from the Memphis branch railroad. The tents are pitched in a beautiful oak wood. The boys had some hard work to do, grubbing and clearing up the camp site by energy and persevering labor, they have a camp which would do credit to veterans.
Near the camp flows a beautiful stream, affording ample bathing facilities, while bountiful springs give the very best water for drinking purposes. In regard to the eating department, I am surprised to find it so well furnished. You will be glad to know that the boys have a cordial reception from the neighborhood, as proven not only by kind words, but by generous deeds. The camp is only a few miles from the Kentucky line. Just beyond the line in Todd county—in which Jeff Davis was born, by-the-by—lives a sturdy farmer of wealth named Merriweather. This morning he sent as a gift to the regiments, wagon load of provisions, among which were five barbecued mutton, many number of cooked hams, together with other substantial edibles, all of which were received with appreciative thanks by all.
He also informed the General that he had a large herd of beef cattle which were not for sale, but were at his service for the use of the camp, and further said that he and a neighbor had three hundred and fifty acres of very fine wheat which they designed cleaning and presenting to the regiments. But, to show you that this spirit is not confined to one person or neighborhood, I will state that on Saturday, after a short canvass by Col. Quarles of Tennessee, the Kentuckians near the line subscribed ten thousand bushels of wheat, and guaranteed seventy thousand bushels if necessary. From what I can see, there is ample here to feed fifty thousand men."

Reorganizing the Kentucky Democracy.

A distinguished retired statesman, writing from his residence in a distant quarter of the State, submits to us the following views:

"The Democracy of the North are reorganizing everywhere, and planting themselves upon a peace platform. I never did think it was a wise step for our party to assume the name of States Rights; for as the New York Day Book says—'Every true Democrat is a States Rights man, and no one can be a good Democrat who is not.' As the Northern Democrats are embodying themselves upon a peace platform, I think we can more efficiently co-operate with them and accomplish the great end we have in view, by immediately assuming our old name, and publishing ourselves, by some official action, distinctly upon the principle of opposition to the war and in favor of immediate peace. Would it not be well to call Democratic meetings and pass resolutions similar to some of those recently passed in the East? You are aware that many of the Union party profess to be opposed to the war; and if that party find that they can do better by forming themselves into a peace party, they will do and get the start of us.
They will take any position to attain and keep power in Kentucky. Let us express our great satisfaction at the reorganization of the Democracy in the North, and somewhat identify ourselves with them, especially on the question of peace, and we can strengthen our party greatly in Kentucky."
